Our courses take place live, therefore our students will be able to interact with the teacher for doubts or questions of any kind.

The videos will, in any case, be available to the student even after the live broadcast as a video podcast. Obviously, in this case there will be no immediate interaction with the teacher, but we at Pivetti Lab will always be available to answer your doubts.

Just write us an email to:
customerservice@pivetti.it .

HOW TO PARTECIPATE IN THE COURSES?

Dear Students and Customers, taking part in the Pivetti Lab courses is very simple!

The first simple step is to choose the course you want to attend.

Once the payment has been made you will be able to see the contents of that particular course.

Before starting it, you will need to go to your private section where you will find the link to access the meeting on the ZOOM platform (if it is live video).

Furthermore, the courses can be sold individually or in packages.

For example, you will find the shortcrust pastry course that can be purchased individually or you can find it in the “Basic Pastry Path” package.
